

EMPIRE AT WAR FOR FREEDOM BRITAIN AND FRANCE AID POLAND

Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King
As Prime Minister of Canada he is responsible for the nation's policies.

DECLARATION SUNDAY

AGGRESSION OF HITLER MUST STOP

CANADA STANDS BEHIND BRITAIN—PARLIAMENT MEETS TO DAY

Will Determine Extent of Participation. Canada Now On Full Military Basis For Defence Voluntary Service For Overseas Forecast

After twenty years of silence guns have again spoken on the front between France and Germany for the purpose of safe guarding our freedom and democracy. At four o'clock Sunday morning Mountain Standard time Prime Minister Chamberlain announced to the world that after doing everything humanly possible to preserve the peace of Europe Britain was at war.

Hitler refusing to listen to reason Britain was forced again to declare war on Germany. This declaration was followed five hours later by France and in the meantime on a nation wide radio talk Premier King said Canada stood behind the mother country and will co-operate to the full.

The exact extent of co-operation beside defending our own shores which is of prime importance will be decided by Parliament when it meets in a special session today, Thursday.

For weeks people of the world have been nervd up for the crisis as hopes would be built up only to be dashed on the ground. In Canada the government, through Hon. Mr. Massey has been kept advised 24 hours a day of the situation, messages being in the last week when Germany invaded Poland the Canadian cabinet met and took such measures as will protect Canada both from a military standpoint and control food and profiteering. Military Units have been brought up to war strength. Recruiting is going on all over Canada with youths flocking to the colors. From the permanent force and volunteers public buildings, air ports and power plants all over Canada are being patrolled 24 hours a day. There is justification for this action as definite knowledge has been secured as to probable sabotage.

Information secured by The Chronicle from the east is that recommendations to Parliament to day will be for co-operation by extensive aid in food and war material. Manufacturing will be carried on in a large scale while food and clothing will also be made available. It will be suggested that when an expeditionary force is required by Britain that such will be sent on a purely voluntary basis and there will be no conscription of men for overseas service. This is a policy agreed to by both the Liberals and Conservatives as best serving the interests of a united Canada, for the time being at least.

It will be pointed out The Chronicle is informed that no longer is Canada free from attack by air or water and that every effort will be made to hold reserve forces in the more vulnerable points.

Immediate cause for war was the invasion of Poland by Hitler who demanded the return of Danzig and the Corridor. Every effort was made by Britain and indeed Italy to have the matter settled in a peaceful manner. Britain asked that German troops be withdrawn immediately and the time limit for the withdrawal having expired Britain could do nothing else but honor her pledge with Poland to assist if her freedom was threatened. Italy is remaining out for the moment while United States is definitely to remain neutral.

War was brought home to Canadians first by the sinking of the Athenia on which some 1400 souls most of which were Canadians. The loss of life is not establish at the time we go to press.

Thus at the opening it gives all signs of being a ruthless war in which no one will be safe. There is no reason to be surprised at the sinking of ships or bombing of hospitals and defenceless women and children being killed for we must all appreciate that in this war anything goes with the Germans as long as they think they are causing suffering to their enemies.

France has started to fight on the western front while Britain has taken mastery of the seven seas, capturing German vessels and blockading German ports. No outstanding engagement are reported yet.

LOCAL YOUTH ANSWERED CALLS

Arnold Boden Goes to Esquimaux

One of the first reports of local young men going into active service for their King and Country was received by The Chronicle on Tuesday when Mr. L. Q. Boden reported that his son had been called to Esquimaux for active service the Technical Home Defence service branch. He has been active in wireless operation and while he has been working with T. Eaton and Company, was selected and requested to report to his Pacific coast defence post at once. The management of Eatons granted leave of absence to Mr. Boden. It is anticipated that considerable defence forces will be required. Presence of submarines on the east coast has sent the Canadian destroyers and air fleet in search while it is said that the west coast is also highly organized for the protection of shipping.

Too much praise cannot be accorded those who serve their King and Country. All that enlist realize that the conflict will be no jolly get-together sightseeing trip and those who do serve under these circumstances deserve all the more commendation.

Since the above was written it is understood that other local boys have enlisted including Ralph Isaacson, H. Lawrence.

HEAVY RAINS

Heavy rains fell locally on Tuesday which will hold up harvesting operations several days.

Grain Movement Heaviest in years

Not for years has the grain movement over the railway been so heavy. During the past week cars were spotted and removed from the local yards daily including Sunday.

All indications are that our report of a million bushels of grain from this district will be exceeded. Already over a half a million has been marketed and with the war now farmers are holding back to see what government action will be. Special session of parliament may see a new policy announced.

KING GEORGE VI

No Protesting To Be Allowed

Having in view the situation during the last war the Canadian Government have moved swiftly and drastically to control the sale of foodstuffs and household commodities.

In a nation wide broadcast Hon. Norman Rogers stated that there was no need of an increase in prices beyond regular market fluctuations and that Canadians should co-operate to keep prices level. He did not wish prosecution in this regard but failing co-operation the government will not hesitate to protect the public.

One merchant in Winnipeg is alleged to have sold sugar at an advanced price and already the matter is receiving the attention of the police. In the east a shortage of sugar was reported and the government immediately demanded to know why and the matter was soon cleared up.

School Bell Rings For New Term

Tuesday was the first day of school for many little folk in Champion and district schools and the memories formed on that day will no doubt remain for a long time, if their reaction is the same as the others.

In Champion there was an unusual number of changes in the staff and the first day was more or less a matter of getting acquainted as to the program of studies to be carried out during the year and the new regulations to be conducted.

Principal Thomas had his timetable ready for the high school and while there may be some minor changes it is expected the schedule will work out perfectly.

After all the legal dialectic has been exhausted about the sinking of the Athenia one fact remains. Germany lost no time in restoring the frightfulness she practiced during the late years of the last war.

OUR DUTY AS CANADIANS

We feel that it is our duty as editor of this paper to urge all our readers to observe that calm of spirit necessary to success in any just cause.

Our best contribution to the Empire, and to the cause of peace for which we are fighting, is that we as a nation remain united, free from sectionalism and political strife. This best can be done by preserving a strict adherence to tolerance and reason. If your neighbor holds contrary views to yours on the causes of the war, conscription, economic reform, alien rights and the hundred and one subjects which may arise remember that we are now fighting for the principle of freedom and that in no act or word should we exemplify the spirit of Hitlerism, that our ideas are wholly right and others wrong.

Secondly we, as citizens whether of British extraction or not naturalized, should co-operate with our Federal Government and those entrusted with the defence of Canada. You may rest assured that no act or regulations will be enforced but what will be for the sake of good government and the safety of every householder.

If Canada is good enough place to live in and obtaining a home it should be worth defending, and those entrusted with law, enforcement and government are entitled to receive such support and co-operation as will earn the individual the right to say "I too served Canada."

Canada Stands For Peace

Canadians heard on Sunday September third grave news, that the failure of Hitler to withdraw his campaign against Poland had resulted in a declaration of war involving Great Britain, France and the British people as a whole. Thus the curtain was raised to record a chapter in Canadian history which holds the fate of civilization as we know it now. Canada has, through her prime minister, pledged support to the cause of Britain through co-operation.

We in common with all thinking people hold a grave view of the situation. War is no longer a glorious battle with the soldiers vying with each other as to valor. Instead it is mass warfare in which the women and children suffer gas, attack from the air. According to Prime Minister Chamberlain it is agreed that it will be a struggle of long duration.

As so ably put by prime minister King on Sunday last we are not fighting over one city or one nation but these were but means to an end as far as Hitler and his lust for aggression is concerned and there is not a household in Canada but what is vitally affected by Germany's aggressive spirit.

Canada has always stood for peace and will continue to do so but in civil life there must be legal force applied at times in order to safeguard our safety and this is such a time. It behoves each and every one of us to stand loyal to the things we hold dear and support our government.

In a recent issue of The Christian Science Monitor we came across a striking Editorial on Thinking Towards Peace and we can do no better than quote a few sentences which struck us.

"Peace is still the dearest, deepest hope of simple people the world over. But to win peace we must think towards it. For that reason anything which directs attention intelligently to preserving peace is more worthy of attention than the more spectacular threats and theories of war which have mesmerized mankind."

There is not a people that wishes to send its children to death in order to take from other nations the right to exist that it claims for itself. The common humanity of millions can prevail over the madness of one militarist.

Durable peace can only be founded on a moral order. It will not come by selfish concessions to aggressive appetites. Those who want peace must purify their own purposes, must make no terms with hatred, fear, injustice, deception in their own or foreign governments. They must prepare for peace with prayer, must achieve an allegiance to and understanding of God's government, a surrender of selfish nationalism or hateful prejudice, a willingness to let His peace come on earth.

YOUR COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER

The value of a good live news paper to a community is pretty hard to estimate, but it is a value and a real one.

It stands behind every worthy community effort. It chronicles the doings of the municipal councils and every other society or organization working for the public well being.

It has a field of its own which the dailies cannot and do not cover.

It deals briefly with community happenings but the real news of the little world in which we live — that of Mr and Mrs Common Folk and their families — is given quite extensively.

The community paper is gaining wider recognition to day as a force which is helping to build up community centres acting in direct co-operation with every movement that means better towns and citizens and more prosperous farmers.

The community newspaper gives much and asks little. It stands ready to help all organizations. It tells of school honors and school promotions of the doings of the churches fraternal societies, and sports clubs. For itself it asks but one favor, that all within its jurisdiction become regular subscribers.
